

Evolving a new European response to conflict and disaster

LSE-led research gave Europe a new concept of human security that has helped to address global conflicts and emergencies

What was the

'narrow version' proposed by the Canadians, which linked human security to a 'responsibility to protect' in cases such as genocide and large-scale violation of human rights.

To achieve this new version of human security, the Barcelona report proposed a human security force of combined civilian and military personnel. The force

Research Impact: making a difference

Email: m.h.kaldor@lse.ac.uk

Webpage: <http://www.lse.ac.uk/internationalDevelopment/people/kaldorm.aspx>

---

LSE gratefully acknowledges the following for support of this research:

Caixa de Catalunya
European Ministries of Foreign Affairs and Defence
Economic and Social Research Council (ESRC)

<http://www.lse.ac.uk/researchImpact>

©LSE2014