

POLICY BRIEFING
Regulation of Logistics Infrastructures in

4. There are four key areas that were highlighted and that were seen as useful and highly localised, principles' that would be binding on regulators and that would be open to external validation. Such a scheme might operate if the budgetary position of the different regulatory agencies could be stabilised and made predictable.

6. A renewed PRO-REG initiative should seek