

France

There are a number of distinctive features about French children's use of the internet compared to children and young people in Europe overall:

- f* French children access the internet less often with a mobile or handheld device. Going online from their bedroom is also below the European average.
- f* Fewer children in France have a social networking profile compared to children in Europe overall.